

Push the boundaries of creativity.

NEW

Bachelor of Creative Arts.
Enrol now for 2012.

The MIT Faculty of Creative Arts is your first step on the path to a career in the creative arts and industries. At MIT Faculty of Creative Arts our task is not only to teach you skills, but to develop your creative thinking abilities and in doing so open up opportunities in an ever expanding range of creative career options.

0800 62 88 88
www.manukau.ac.nz

We offer study in three creative arts areas:

Creative Writing

The MIT Creative Writing Team is led by renowned poet Robert Sullivan with distinguished NZ writer Witi Ihimaera, foremost pioneering Pacific author Albert Wendt, and critically acclaimed fiction writer and journalist Sue Orr.

Find a path to the ideal country of your soul and your heart as a student on this unique programme. Our philosophy is to guide students to produce strong emotionally centred work with the end goal of achieving formal publication. Through regular workshops, journal writing, and reading as writers, we focus on key genres of fiction, poetry and creative non-fiction. We also offer papers in screenwriting and digital writing. The final year of the degree is a culmination of previous creative work to achieve a book-length manuscript, or an extended collaboration with an artist or performer.

- Diploma in Creative Writing (Level 5)
- Bachelor of Creative Arts (Creative Writing) NEW

Performing Arts

MIT in collaboration with South Seas Film & Television School are offering the Bachelor of Creative Arts in Performing Arts and the Diploma in Performing Arts in South Auckland. All tutors are industry professionals and continue to operate in professional productions in Auckland and greater New Zealand. Our aim is to prepare students for careers in the professional performance industry in:

Acting – (for Film, Television and Theatre) and/or Singing-(Soloist, Ensemble and Musical Theatre) and/or Dance (Dance Company and Musical Theatre).

- Diploma in Performing Arts (Level 5)
- Bachelor of Creative Arts (Performing Arts) NEW

Visual Arts

The School of Visual Arts offers the learning skills essential for thinking about, experimenting with and realising creative work. These skills range from digital media, interactive media and moving image to graphic media, photography and jewellery.

- Certificate in Foundation Studies in Visual Arts
- Diploma in Visual Arts (Level 5)
- Bachelor of Creative Arts (Visual Arts) NEW
- Certificate in Jewellery Techniques
- Diploma in Jewellery Manufacture and Design
- Diploma in Advanced Jewellery Practice
- Certificate in Photography